New year's joy. Little Shelby Morgan Patey helped her parents start the new year out right after she was born the first baby at the Mountain View Health Care Centre for 1995. Along with the honor also went a lot of goodies supplied by the hospital volunteers. Members Hannah Neufeld, Myra Underhay, Ruth Sverdahl and Hazel Milne were on hand to make the presentation to Shelby and her parents Kathy and Steve. Shelby was born on January 3 and has a big brother, Carter, waiting for her at home. Janice Harrington photo

Town works to revive Olds Chamber

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

The Town of Olds is throwing their support behind an effort to revive the Olds Chamber of Commerce, organizing a meeting to get public input into the fate of the business group.

In a press conference last week, mayor Bob Armstrong, town administrator Gary Gelech and local businessman Jim Smith announced their intention to hold the public meeting in the hopes of reviving the chamber which has been inactive for the past four years.

Gelech said the town decided to get involved in the process because its community development committee has identified the need for such an organization.

"Once we established the new community development committee, one of their planks was to resurrect the chamber," Gelech said. "They felt making it active again would be positive."

Town boosts development fees

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

In a move towards what they call full cost recovery service, town council have agreed to increase the rates of development application fees for both commercial and residential development in town.

With only one opposing vote, council chose to increase the fees to help recover a greater portion of the cost involved in processing development applications.

That means developers looking to build a new home will have to pay a $15 increase for the development application. The new rate goes from $70 to $85. Commercial developers will be hit the hardest though, as council decided to move away from a flat rate fee and charge a rate based on construction costs. The old rate of $70 will now be replaced with a fee of $1 for every $1000 of construction cost up to $250,000 and $.50 for every $1000 after that with a minimum charge of $100 and a maximum of $750. Town administrator Mike Storey said the move was made to help recover more of the cost involved in the development application process.

"The $70 didn't even cover the cost of plans inspection," Storey said.

But while there was an increase in some areas, town council did decrease some of the rates. Builders looking to add on a new garage will only be charged $60 instead of the current $70. The basement renovations rate was decreased to $40.

"Part of the reason for that is because most people never made an application for basement renovations," Storey said. "We would never find out about it until a new assessment. This way we are encouraging people to make an application."

But developers aren't the only ones hit with the increase. Opponents to a development will also be asked to pay up. Previously, those against a development application just had to file an appeal. Now they are being asked to also hand over a $50 bill.

But while most of council felt the move was fiscally responsible, not all of the council agreed the move was a benefit to the town. Councillor Dan Peters was very vocal in his opposition to the increases.

"I just think this is sending out the wrong message," he said. "Most people don't look at amenities when they are looking for a new place to live, they look at price. All we are doing is making it more difficult for people to choose to move their home or their business here and then we are losing out on the long term tax revenue."

Town council notes

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

Plans for hosting the provincial Pee Wee B hockey tournament in Didsbury are coming along nicely. Town council agreed to help out the organizers by renting them the arena and multi-purpose room for a flat rate for the duration of the tournament. They will be charged $1500.

Town council also agreed to allow the organizers install video games in the multi-purpose room during the tournament to help keep team members occupied during their off ice time.

Town council has agreed to let the Kidney Foundation canvas in Didsbury from March 1 to 8. Council also declared March as Kidney Month.

The fire department will be getting a bit of an extra boost this year thanks to town council.

Council has boosted the fire fighting rates from $35 per hour to $50 per hour. The money goes to fire department funds. The rate had not been increased since the early 1980s.

Town council also agreed to increase the amount they charge the province for highway rescue work by the fire department. The new rate was pushed to $300 from $250 per unit sent to respond to a highway emergency. It is the first increase in five years. Town administrator Mike Storey said the council decided to increase the fee because the province had notified them they would accept a rate increase. Those fees will be divided with half going to the fire department's emergency equipment reserve, $75 to the volunteer fire department and $75 to the town's operating fund.

While town council is still considering their options about a recreation board, the mayor will be meeting with the county council one last time to see if some agreement can be reached.

Mayor Ray Lea, along with the mayors of Olds and Sundre plan to meet this week to discuss their options since all three have chosen to opt out of their previous recreation agreements with the county. Didsbury has been negotiating for more than a year but have not been able to come to an agreement with the county on a new agreement.

Town Administrator Mike Storey said the mayors will likely be drafting a letter to take to the county regarding their options in the hopes of getting the county back to the negotiating table. All three towns are hoping to increase the rate of recreation funds it receives from the county.

Truck wanted in hit and run

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

Olds RCMP are looking for anyone who might have information on the location of a truck involved in a hit and run accident which occurred earlier this month in Olds.

Constable Terry Icton said the RCMP are looking for a late model black shortbox pick up with a chrome roll bar which is believed to be responsible for hitting a parked car at the entrance to Shannon Close and Shannon Drive in Olds on January 3. The accident happened about 9:10 pm.

RCMP said they know that three teenaged boys in a 1968 to 1973 Chevelle type car were witness to the accident and are asking the boys to come forward so they can gather more information.

Didsbury RCMP are continuing to investigate a theft at the Serenpint Inc. Lockend Plant near Cremona.

Sergeant Ray Gaultier said a thief or thieves broke into a locked compound at the plant in the early morning hours on January 4. Tools from a well servicing rig and a blue tool box containing specialty tools for servicing compressors were taken. The value of the tools is estimated at between $2000 and $3000.

RCMP said they had no suspects at this time and are continuing to investigate.

DAILY PARTS DELIVERY TO DIDSBURY

From the Council table

Special to the Review

Not much to report and besides it is a very busy time of year for everyone so let's not dwell on too many heavy items.

The motel project is moving along but is still not signed, sealed and delivered. However, town crew employees have moved the playground equipment while the weather was so warm. The equipment will be in storage until the site for the new playground is prepared. Also, this allows the motel to proceed when they are ready. A much needed commercial venture for the town both in commercial tax base - increased employment opportunities in the town limits.

Another important matter to remember is the upcoming Big Country Summer Games in June, 1995.

There will be lots of activities for everyone. In order for an event like this to be successful, a large number of volunteers will be needed. Please contact Tracy Kasprick at the town office if you can help out. There is a large number of activities happening besides the sporting events so volunteer in an area that interests you. With the sport venues we have at our fingertips, it is great to be able to host an event such as this and show others how proud we are of what we have.

Even though we have not been able to get a recreation agreement with the County of Mountain View, the Town of Didsbury is going to form a recreation board of town residents. We have been without a board for a year now in hopes that an agreement would be signed, but with no indication that it will be done in the near future, we must move on. It is apparent that a board is needed when such recreation activities such as the Big Country Summer Games are coming and the request to bid on the 1997 Alberta Summer Games.

As we move into 1995, don't forget that municipal elections are coming up in the fall. For those of you that have always wanted a challenge and commitment to the town, throw your hat into the ring. For those who like to do the decision making with the citizens on the street - actually get involved and be a part of the actual decisions.

Best of wishes for the new year to you all from the Council - may 1995 be your best ever!

Resolutions

Janice Harrington

It is almost expected that if you have a newspaper column, you need to make some predictions for the new year. As much as I would like to comply with that tradition, it means I would have to hang out on a limb and suggest what will and what will not happen in the upcoming year. No thanks. Don't get me wrong, I love it when I get it right, it's the getting it wrong part and having to deal with condescending colleagues I hate. (Although this does not mean my bet with Tony from the Gazette is off about the PCs).

So instead, I am going to share some thoughts about what I would like to see happen in 1995.

I'd like to see the referendum in Quebec come back with a resounding NON! vote and an end put forever to the separatist issue. This is in the wishful thinking department unfortunately because the referendum question is so bloody vague, the results can be interpreted anyway one wants once the results are compiled.

I'd like to see the United Nations actually take a vote about its effectiveness and decide to do something useful like turn itself upside down. The UN as an international law enforcement agency since the capture and trial of Nazi war criminals and it is time the structure was changed so that international humanitarian interests were followed instead of merely the strategic interests of a few dominant countries.

I'd like to see the Canadian government really make up its mind about the role of the Canadian military instead of wearing away the morale of its members bit by bit. The Canadian military used to be considered one of the best in the world despite our lack of hardware. Unfortunately we are fast becoming a second rate nation as we waffle on peacekeeping roles and whittle away at the size and structure of the military. It is important to have a strong and prepared military for an emergency and if the government is having trouble justifying its existence, then it should be looking at non-traditional roles for it to fill.

I'd like to see Mayor Ray get a cellular phone like he promised so it is easier to get in touch with him.

I'd like to see the town council follow through on their long term planning and reorganization. It is good to clean house every once in a while just to get a new perspective on life. It is also necessary to have a long term plan in place to help make decision making easier and less haphazard. Once we have a place to go, the ride there is much less frustrating.

I'd like to see the Review receive more letters to the editor so everyone can read about opinions in the area. It's an important role of the newspaper to be able to share those views.

I'd like to see the person responsible for cutting down the trees before Christmas strung up by their heels. Didsbury has a lot of community pride in the way it looks. It is one of the most beautiful communities in the area. Someone who deliberately destroys that beauty deserves punishment to the full extent of the law. That's not to even mention the cost to taxpayers for stunts like this. Restitution would definitely be in order.

I'd like to see everyone take their year in stride, choosing to make the most of the incidents sure to happen through the year. Positive events and negative events will affect everyone, but how we choose to deal with them makes all the difference between counting 1995 as a good year or a bad one.

The public opinion

by Doug Sharpe, Chairman
Didsbury Urban Crime Watch

When asked to contribute to our paper I thought of the new year and what 1995 could be. I'm not big on New Year's resolutions or wish lists, however I did come up with a list of "wouldn't it be nice" items. Please indulge me while I express some thoughts on 1995.

Wouldn't it be nice if:

- the young people could be recognized for the real value they are. They are everything we want to be, or will need in the future. We can't let the actions of a few spoil our perception of the majority. Sometimes we fail to see the successes of our young people attain, some important to them individually and some significant to all of us.

- adults would see how important it is to set an example for our next generation. If the young could develop a sense of optimism from observing how we conduct ourselves, we would all be the winners. We should hope that their perception of us isn't spoiled by the actions of a few.

- there was no need for Morgentaler outlets. By encouraging these clinics, we are saying very clearly that the life of the unborn holds no value. If the lives of the unborn are worthless, can the life of the living be any more worthy? It may be a small procedure in one office, on one street, in one community but the social implication is enormous. It is difficult to care for a suffering child when it could have been disposed of.

- if education really meant providing the best programs available to students and that those obscure planners knew what the students needed. I heard a school trustee say she hoped that in 1995 the students in her jurisdiction would develop strong reading skills! Did we miss something here?

- celebrity spokespersons were acknowledged as just that. They hold no special insight and their success in theater or sports do not qualify them to speak for the rest of us. The media seeks them out but we shouldn't take their observations too seriously.

- the federal government recognized the wishes of the "silent majority". I believe that individual M.P.'s do know, but as a body of legislators they freeze. The noise of special interest groups seem to overpower their ability to think and reason. They function as though these groups somehow must represent the views of the majority of Canadians.

- the Justice system worked to protect those in need of protection instead of those who create a need for justice and what it should stand for. Until we insist the law reflects accountability for our actions, nothing will change. Jail or prison used to be a place to be avoided, not to be used as a retreat. Do you think, just maybe, if the facilities were less comfortable there might be some incentive to stay out? Over simplification? - perhaps.

- the federal government realized that it can't spend its way out of debt. You and I can't and we must remember that the government of the day thinks it reflects our thinking - unless they hear otherwise. We must constantly remind legislators that they are only there because we allow them to be. There is a direct relationship between the effectiveness of elected officials, at any level, and the amount of input they receive from their constituents.

The exciting part of this "wouldn't it be nice if" list is that none of it is impossible to achieve. If we start by being the best sons, daughters and parents we can and then strive to appreciate our com-

On repeating mistakes

Dear Editor:

Regarding Yvonne Dick's letter "How Far For Freedom" (Review Dec. 20/94) and her worry that the book "Hoax of the Twentieth Century", which obviously expresses a politically incorrect point of view, is still available although banned by the Canadian government as hate literature.

Doubtless Miss Dick is well meaning in her concern but she does not realize that the banning of such books is the sort of thing that totalitarian regimes, like Hitler's, always do.

I feel sorry for today's young people. There have been gradual but radical changes in this country over the last 30 years and certain aspects of our culture, our heritage and our history have been marked for oblivion. Many books have been banned, and just recently, David Irving, whose views differ from those found acceptable by the authorities, was not allowed to carry out a scheduled Canadian speaking tour. It was Irving who proved that the recently discovered diary of Hitler was a fraud, much to the embarrassment of certain prestigious people.

A few years ago a gentleman representing the government of South Africa was scheduled to address students at the University of Calgary, a place where differing points of view should be welcomed so that objective conclusions can be reached when all sides have been heard. But the students had been conditioned to look with stern disapproval on the white government of South Africa and so with rude noises they drowned out the speaker. What a pity! How our minds and our manners have deteriorated!

We all know that atrocities were committed by the Nazis. Among their many victims were two of my mother's cousins, and they weren't Jews. But since Satan deceived Eve in Eden the whole history of the human race has been full of violence and sorrow. Millions were martyred for their faith during the Dark Ages and in recent times persecution and genocide have been carried out ruthlessly in many countries. And the savagery continues. But must we label as hate literature a point of view different from ours or that questions somebody's version of history?

During the Dark Ages the Bible was banned by the powers that ruled supreme during those very dark 1260 years when the people were deliberately kept in ignorance. Anybody whose beliefs differed from those approved by the authorities was termed a heretic and was persecuted or killed if he didn't recant. We can thank God for the reformers - Luther, Wycliffe, Zwingli and many others, some of whom were martyred, for bringing light and hope to the people through the spreading of God's word which

Insensitivity a shame

Dear Editor:

On Sat., Dec. 17, 1994 my wife and I were returning from out of town and passed by the Kinsmen playground. We were very shocked and dismayed by the sight of broken beer bottles scattered on the ground under the tire swings. I'm amazed that the person(s) who created the mess and hazard were not reported because of the homes that surround the park didn't hear or see anything. I hope that those responsible are caught and punished.

My wife and I returned to the playground and with the help of two of our daughters, we cleaned up as much of the broken glass and empty bottles as we could. There is still a lot of small pieces and slivers of glass that we couldn't pick. All we ask is that until spring and it can be cleaned properly that the children playing on the tire swings should be careful.

The benefit from this was the kids got about $2 of bottles to return. I also hope the people living around the park pay more attention to what goes on so that nothing like this occurs again; because there is no need for innocent children to get hurt by the stupidity of others.

Tree of Hope campaign a big success

Mountain View Palliative Care's annual Tree of Hope campaign has been a great success this season. A total of $1,033.00 was raised in the Didsbury community, so a big thank you to all of you who made donations. This money will be pooled with the donations raised by the Olds and Sundre Tree of Hope campaigns to buy equipment to help patients needing care at home.

The M.V.P.C. Association would like to thank all those who volunteered to help with fundraising, the Town of Didsbury for donating the tree and helping with putting up the lights and also the Didsbury Review for donating space to print the names of donors. Thank you to everyone who helped make this year so successful.

Churches okay merger

Zion Evangelical Missionary Church and the Didsbury Evangelical Missionary Church voted Sunday, November 20, 1994 with a majority from each congregation, to merge and become one.

After several years of discussion and planning, the two denominations, namely the Evangelical Church of Canada and the Missionary Church of Canada, of which the local congregations were members, merged in August 1993. Since then the local congregations have had a committee consisting of persons from both congregations who have studied the histories, ministries and needs of the two groups and how best they can work together. The committee submitted its recommendation for merger, to which the congregations expressed their strong approval.

Beginning January 1, 1995, one board of equal representation from both churches including the senior pastor, from each congregation, will give administrative leadership to the congregations. They will develop ways in which the congregations will come together in worship, ministry and activities. Use will be made of both church buildings during the coming year while the development of combined worship and ministry continues. The merged church is named "Zion Evangelical Missionary Church."

The present places of worship will be referred to as the South (2025 - 20th Ave.) and North (2026 - 21st Ave.) facilities.

A service of celebration of the coming together of these congregations will be held Sunday morning, January 15th at Westglen School Gym at 10:30 a.m.

Alberta Farm Women's Conference planned

Special to the Review

The fifth Alberta Farm Women's Network Conference will happen January 27 and 28, 1995 at the Royal West Inn, Edmonton. "Common Ground," the conference theme, will connect rural and urban women through the commonality of food and farming.

A time to share information and gain new insights is the goal of this conference. An Alberta Farm Woman will be honored as Farm Woman of the Year to represent herself, other nominees and all Alberta Farm Women whose contributions merit celebration and wider publicity.

The annual meeting of the Alberta Farm Women's Network will be held on Thursday evening, January 26, prior to the two day conference. This meeting will be open to the public; all interested in contributing to or becoming involved in the future direction of the Alberta Farm Women's Network are encouraged to attend.

The conference agenda is a blend of workshops and speakers within an interactive format. Friday evening, January 27, is banquet and celebration time. Each nominee for Farm Woman of the Year will be introduced by a nominator. It will be a time to socialize and to get to know others from around the province.

"Common Ground" will conclude Saturday afternoon, January 28, with a noon luncheon, the Farm Woman of the Year Award and her message for those attending.

The Alberta Farm Women's Network Annual Meeting and the fifth Biennial Conference is open to all who wish to attend and is made possible by U.F.A. sponsorship of the Farm Woman of the Year costs, the Farm Women's Advancement Program of Agriculture Canada and the volunteer hours of past and present Alberta Farm Women's Network committee members.

For further information, please contact Janet Walter at 347-0660 or Christine at 934-6032 for conference registration.

Alcohol and pregnancy don't mix

- News from the Mount View Health Unit

Special to the Review

By this time most people have heard the phrases Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (FAS) and Fetal Alcohol Effect (FAE). Many people are also aware that alcohol consumption during pregnancy can hurt the baby. But most people do not know what problems show up in babies who have been affected by their mothers' alcohol intake.

Babies with FAS are smaller than average at birth and remain this way as they grow older. They often have unusual facial characteristics, are developmentally delayed and have learning impairments. Babies who have a certain number of these characteristics are diagnosed with FAS. Those who show some signs of damage related to alcohol, but do not meet the criteria for FAS are described as having FAE, meaning simply that the baby has been adversely affected by alcohol.

The more alcohol a pregnant woman consumes, the greater the risk to the unborn child. Damage has been seen in babies of women drinking just over two drinks per day. No safe limit of alcohol consumption has been established. For this reason avoidance of all alcohol is advised for pregnant women.

Alcohol can damage babies at any point in their development. In the first three months of pregnancy, for example, heavy alcohol consumption can cause damage to the baby's developing nervous system. Often women are one month pregnant, or more, before they even know it. For this reason many experts are now recommending restricting alcohol intake if you're planning to become pregnant.

For most of us giving up alcohol while we are pregnant is not difficult. Most would agree it's a small sacrifice and is one of the things mothers can do to give their babies the best chance possible. For others, alcohol is a significant part of life. If you are pregnant and you are finding it difficult to quit drinking please get help. If you have any questions or if you want more information please call Mount View Health Unit.

What's cooking?

Need more quick and convenient weekday meals? Make your roast do double duty by planning for leftovers. Cooked roast beef in the refrigerator is the original convenience food. Here is one way to maximize your weekend roast and minimize your weekday meal preparation:

High in flavour, low in fat, ready in minutes -- Speedy Beef Stroganoff is a perfect meal for today's busy lifestyles.

SPEEDY BEEF STROGANOFF

Use leftovers from the Sunday roast to make this updated classic. Preparation: 5-10 minutes; Cooking: 15-20 minutes

1 medium onion, sliced
2 cups rare cooked roast beef, cut into strips*
2 tbsp flour
1-10 oz can condensed beef bouillon

1/2 tsp dry mustard
2 tbsp tomato paste
1 tbsp Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup plain yogurt or low fat sour cream
1-10 oz can sliced mushrooms
1/4 cup fresh parsley, chopped

Sauté onion in a large non-stick frypan until tender. Add beef strips and lightly stir-fry until warm. Remove beef and onion from pan. Blend flour with condensed beef bouillon and add mixture to pan juices. Add mustard, tomato paste and Worcestershire sauce. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add beef and onions. Blend in yogurt or sour cream, mushrooms and parsley. Heat thoroughly on low heat. Do not boil. Serve with hot bread noodles and snow peas.

Makes 6 servings.

*No leftovers? Substitute 1 1/2 lbs of boneless sirloin steak, cut into stir-fry strips.

tive for the town."

Olds Mayor Bob Armstrong said council also supported a functioning chamber because it would help them do their jobs.

"We see the chamber as a political force that can help us fight for things like the hospital," he said. "The Chamber of Commerce is also a very good group for people to talk to and to help advise us on some decisions."

Smith, who owns several local businesses, said while interest in the chamber has declined over the past four years, some members have continued to meet on occasion.

"I guess the real purpose of the meeting is to find out what we should do with the chamber," Smith said. "We'll let the community tell us if we should get it started again or if we should bury it."

Smith said the meeting, to be held January 19 at the Evergreen Hall, is open to any interested residents from Olds and the surrounding area.

"That is one thing we want people to know; we want this chamber to be broad based, not just serving the retail community," Smith said. "So that means farmers or home based businesses are also welcome to get involved."

The meeting will be a supper meeting and will feature as guest speaker John Ballheim, President of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce.

At the Kitchen Table

by Noreen Olson

I used to think that a New Year's Eve party was essential. As a teenager I would have donned my black velvet strapless and crawled to the Elk's New Year dance if I were in the grip of double pneumonia. When our kids were small we had New Year's parties at home and when they grew up we went out to friends or had someone in but gradually the whole thing became less and less important. Years are shorter than they used to be and the parties marking them seem to get closer together, party snacks ruined appetites for dinner the next day, peace and a cosy house appealed more than noise and traffic. This year Ralph and I were watching Mr. Bean on T.V. and didn't even notice that it was after midnight.

You know of course that the word holiday comes from holy day because until recently all holidays were of a religious nature. New Year's Day is the oldest of all the holiday/holy days and people were celebrating New Year's Day before there was a calendar to mark it on. Historians think that the earliest New Year's celebration was in Babylon about 2000 B.C. It was held in late March at the time of the vernal equinox and lasted for 11 days. Festivities began when a High Priest rose two hours before dawn, washed in the sacred waters of the Euphrates and offered a hymn to Marduk, the chief god of agriculture. The hymn was in the form of a request for bountiful crops in the forthcoming new season. Following this musical interlude the rump of a beheaded ram was rubbed against the temple walls to absorb any contagion that might infest the next year's harvest. Food, wine and hard liquor were consumed in quantity, partly because this was a party, but more importantly to show appreciation to Marduk for providing last year's harvest. I don't know if they celebrated less enthusiastically when a plague of locusts had eaten the crop. Probably not, Marduk would have taken this as a sign of insubordination.

On the sixth day a troupe of masked mummers did a play in tribute to the goddess of fertility. This was followed by a magnificent parade, filled with costumes, music and dancing that started at the temple and finished at a building known as the New Year House. I don't know what ladies wore to this party but I don't think it was black velvet and rhinestones. My book does not say what they did for the rest of the 11 day celebration but I'll bet they were exhausted and several of them probably wished they had television so they could go home and watch Mr. Bean.

Under the ancient calendar the Romans used March 25, the beginning of spring, as the first day of the year but after several Emperors had juggled the length of months and years to extend their terms of office, calendar dates were so out of sync with astronomical signs that nobody knew when to celebrate what. This gave people a wonderful excuse for not going in to the forum because almost every day was a holiday on somebody's calendar. In 153 B.C. the Roman Senate declared that the start of the New Year would be Jan. 1. They forgot to say, "now leave the darn thing alone" and more tampering occurred so that by 46 B.C. Julius Caesar had to let the year go on for 445 days in order to bring the first day around to Jan. 1 again. This became known as "The Year Of Confusion" and the new calendar became the Julian calendar.

During the Middle Ages the Church was so against the old pagan New Year's celebrations that there were no festivities at all. From the 11th to thirteenth centuries, the British celebrated New Year's on March 25, the French on Easter Sunday, and the Italians on Christmas Day. It is only for the last 400 years that Jan. 1st has been in favor worldwide.

Our New Year's customs are a mish mash of the customs of our various forefathers and since the one thing common to every country's celebration is noise, our North American parties are very noisy. On New Year's Eve in New York, 1773, things got so out of hand that the city fathers banned firecrackers, homemade bombs and personal shotguns from all future parties. Well I should hope so.

I hope Mr. Bean is on again next New Year's Eve.

East Didsbury 4-H Beef and Light Horse news

by Rachel Sawatzky,
Special to the Review

We started the year off with an organizational meeting on October 6th. We were all given club constitutions and regional calendars. Everyone filled out the registration forms. We decided to have our meetings on the second Thursday of the month at 7:30 at the Mountain View Hall. On October 29th we put on a Halloween Arcade at the hall. There was a haunted house and booths with different sorts of activities.

Our next meeting was on November 10th. We elected our club officers. President - Wes Nail, Vice President - Lindsey Sakariassen, Secretary - Darrah Selanders, Treasurer - Scott Schmick, Reporter - Rachel Sawatzky, Historians - Chrissy Jochems, Charlie Sawatzky, Brent Fox and Jonathan Dowell. After the meeting we had Eric Andrew from Unifeed come and give us some points on feeding our steers.

On November 11th we cleaned the hall. This is our payment for using the hall for our meetings. On November 19th we had our Weigh-In at Ken Taylor's. We had 13 steers.

Our mounted meetings have started. Two Saturdays a month we go to the Olds Pavilion and ride for approximately three hours.

On December 11 we went bowling in Olds for our Christmas party. Everyone had a good time.

On December 8th we had a general meeting. Our next general meeting is on January 5th.

We all hope that we will have a fun successful year in 4-H.

HOWARD

Alfred Montgomery Howard, born November 21, 1906 in Rothsay, Scotland quietly went to be with his Lord and Saviour, December 16, 1994 in Didsbury, Alberta at the age of 88 years.

He is survived by his loving wife of 53 years, Florence, his daughter, Jean (John) Prater of Calgary, his sons: John (Bonny) of Didsbury, Victor (Norma-Jean) of Three Hills, Douglas (Heather) of Ponoka, seven grandchildren, and a brother, Vincent (Ruth) Howard of Calgary.

He was predeceased by his sister, Gertie and her husband Tom McKee, and his other brothers Ernest, Bill and Jack (each still survived by their wives, Alice,

Dorothy and Audrey, respectively.

As a child of 6 months, Alfred came with his family from Scotland to Penetangaishene, Ontario. When he was 12, they moved west to Drumheller, where Alfred matured in the lee of the nearby Handhills. Schooling was not easy to come by in those days, but with perseverance which characterized him all his days he completed Normal in Calgary with his brother, Jack, and commenced teaching at Blair School atop the Handhills. After serving also in Enterprise and Robson Lake Schools, Alfred moved to Calgary in 1939 to teach at Strathcona School for Boys. In 1940, he and his brother Jack took over the school from Major Ellissen. He married his devoted wife, companion and co-worker, Florence Howard, in November of 1941. Mr. Howard, "Sir" as he has been known to his many students, served 27 years as Headmaster there until retiring in 1967 to a farm at Didsbury. He is lovingly remembered with much respect and admiration by his family, friends and the extended family of the "old boys" of Strathcona School for Boys.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, December 20, 1994 from the Didsbury Evangelical Missionary Church with Reverend Howard Griffin, Reverend Norman Zimmerman and Reverend Steve Werdal officiating.

Interment followed in the Queens Park Cemetery, Calgary. Memorials, if desired, may be given to the Gideon Memorial Bible Plan.

Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Didsbury, entrusted with arrangements.

CAMPBELL

Henry (Hank) Campbell passed away at the Didsbury Hospital December 6th at the age of 79.

Surviving him are three sisters and one brother: Grace of Clearbrook, B.C., Cassie of Crossfield, Irene (Morris) of Didsbury and George (Phyllis) of Carstairs. He is also survived by numerous nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his mother, Mary Ann, in 1949 and his father, Henry (Harry) B. in 1970.

a brief glimpse at the people and events in our community

Willard Stauffer

Past President of the Didsbury Lions Club

Recessionary times pack a double wallop for service clubs. "[Fund-raising] is more of a challenge," Stauffer said. "And we're getting more requests for all kinds of legitimate needs. We are a service organization and we like to help out wherever we can but there is a limit to what we can do. The problem is prioritizing." Stauffer views the upcoming year as a fresh opportunity for local service clubs to do everything in their power to serve the community. "We Serve" is the Lion's Motto. While the Olds Royal Purple charter folded and the Olds Elks struggle to maintain their charter due to lack of new members, the Didsbury Lions are 38 members strong. "We are on of the larger [Lions] clubs in the province," Stauffer said. The key to continued vitality can be attributed to three things according to Stauffer: "Continued community support, strong leadership, and commitment [by club members]. Upcoming Lions ventures include the Lions Curling Bonspeil which will run January 11th to 13th and the 50th Anniversary Charter Night Celebration, open to members and guests which will be held on February 18.

Claude Baril

1995 downtown revitalization

"I'm very optimistic what is going to happen in Didsbury," Claude Baril said. "Didsbury residents and business people have been looking forward to something happening with regard to the downtown revitalization project, and this will be the year things will start to happen. It's the beginning. We're laying the foundation within the zone. Everything will start at the gazebo and fan out from there. [Sidewalk extensions], planters; it's all been [designed]. It's not all going to happen in '95, it will run over three to five years. Something I'm looking forward to in 1995 is being able to see the plan and see the benefit for all of Didsbury."

Garry Bogner

Didsbury 5-0 Club President

Despite continuing cut-backs buffeting seniors province wide, the buzz at the 5-0 club is upbeat for 1995 president Garry Bogner said. "No one's complaining that I've heard," Bogner said. "It's just the usual routine. Membership has increased; we're up to around 180 to 190 people." Bogner said Didsbury 5-0 members seem to prefer year-round club participation to flying south when the mercury drops. "The medical costs are increasing [in the United States]; it can get expensive if you plan to stay down there for four or five months. I don't mind the cold. I like my four seasons." Bogner takes things "one day at a time", and asserts that retirement in Didsbury is definitely something to look forward to without trepidation. "What more do you need? There's plenty to do and all your friends are here. If I'd known what retirement would be like I'd have done it long before I did." The annual general meeting of the 5-0 club is slated for February and the club's major project for 1995 involves major renovations to the main floor which will see the kitchen area moved back against the east wall to increase floor space in the main hall area.

Colin Charron, 6
A racy future

The future looks very bright to Colin Charron, a grade one student enrolled in the Didsbury Elementary School. "It's going to be a good year," Charron asserted confidently. While others denounce the system and castigate those in charge, Charron had words of praise for the 'higher-ups' he deals with; particularly his grade one teacher. Mrs. Charron (- no relation) drew a thumb's up from her charge. "She's nice," Charron said. "She's teaching me how to do my numbers and my alphabet." Charron's father who works "up north", managed to make it home to be with the family at Christmas, capping off 1994 which was also "a good year" in Charron's book. Charron, who plans to be "racing cars" after graduation, envisions future packed with possibility including the promise of a stimulating career behind the wheel of a dragster. "I'm going to look into it," he confided, aptly adding, "Sometimes [drivers] go off the track, but not me, I'll be careful." Astute advice for everyone, as we gear up for 1995.

Larry Stevens

$25,000 Western Round-Up Lottery winner

"I never won anything in my life," Olds lottery winner Larry Stevens related, adding, "I just fluked out; it was fantastic." Stevens, who farms east of Olds with his wife Annette, picked up the winning ticket December 27 at the Olds Mohawk almost as an after thought. "I buy them once in a while. I bought a Celebration ticket for my brother and my mother as a Christmas present while we were in town buying groceries, and I just picked up [a $1 Western ticket] for myself. I gave both tickets to [my brother] Ron who was on his way to Didsbury [with some other family members] to go swimming." Steven's sister had recently delivered a baby and his daughter, already the mother of a toddler less than a year old, gave birth to Steven's grandson on December 25 so Stevens was in a hurry to check in with his family. While Stevens headed to his sister's house, his brother scratched the numbers on both tickets to pass the time as he rode to Didsbury. "He had a cellular phone and he called me. 'You won a car', he said. I didn't believe him at first. 'I should have just put it in my pocket', he said." Stevens promised his brother's honesty would be rewarded, saying, "He'll be compensated." Stevens, who drives a 1982 GMC Suburban, said he entertained the notion of driving home in a shiny 1995 Mustang convertible for "a while" but eventually elected to take the cash instead. The Stevens' picked up their $25,000 prize in Edmonton on December 30 and plan to pay off some bills with the cheque, which has yet to be cashed. "We've just been too busy being grandparents to go to the bank," Stevens said.

Brenda Fleming

Christmas Light Judging Results

Christmas Light Competition judges Brenda Fleming, Linda Vernon-Third and Wendy Seymour had their work cut out in tagging winners from a sparkling assortment of Christmas decorations. "It was tough," Fleming acknowledged. "In some cases we went back three times." While balmy temperatures and clear roads facilitated Joyce Mullen's customary annual judge's chauffeur run, it presented a different story for the judges themselves. "It was gorgeous, weather-wise," Fleming said, "but it's a little harder to judge [displays] when the lawns are brown and not white." Fleming offered some hints for next year's hopefuls. "We look for different ideas and the combinations of lights and figurines. There's got to be a plan to it. We try to picture it like a postcard- if it was a picture in a frame, what would it look like?" Winners were: RURAL: Louise Meyers. LARGE YARD IN TOWN: John McLaws. SMALL YARD IN TOWN: Mr. and Mrs. Vern Wilshusen, with honorable mentions going to: Wayne Maitland, Doug White and Keith Mullen. COMMERCIAL: Home Hardware, with honorable mentions going to: Ward's Value Drug Mart and Intra Don's World Travel Ltd.

Hay plant spreading international wings

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

While Alberta may be internationally renowned for the quality of its beef products, there is another product gaining international recognition - hay.

The quality of the hay produced in this area is also gaining recognition around the world and opening up new markets for hay plants like the one just opened in the Didsbury area by a group of investors from Alberta and B.C.

Fero Farms Inc. began operations three months ago in a rented farm building just east of town and has since moved to their own facilities on the south end of Didsbury. General Manager Ian Hopfe said business has been so good since they opened, the operation has expanded far more quickly than anticipated.

"We started up because we had interest from a couple of producers in Japan who wanted to buy directly," Hopfe said. "But since then interest has been growing more quickly than we imagined."

That means Fero Farms is running eight full time employees under the direction of plant manager Miller McCoy, compressing 5000 to 7000 tons of hay for shipment overseas. They are anticipating that amount to grow to 10,000 tons after their first year. Hopfe said markets in England, Taiwan and Korea are also opening up to their product.

The hay Fero Farms compresses is a mix of alfalfa and Timothy first and second cut. Hopfe said they also sell mixed alfalfa second cut. The hay is purchased locally, using a farm to market concept were they act as the go between, travelling from farm to farm tying the producer to the buyer. Hopfe said it is the direct buying concept that is so attractive to their purchasers.

"The buyer comes up and sees the hay he wants and then we take care of the rest," he said.

Hopfe said Fero is interested in purchasing hay from producers in the Didsbury area. Interested producers can call them at 335-9202.

Balancing your RSP

Special to the Review

You've built up your Retirement Savings Plan, perhaps with a combination of investments including mutual funds. But how do you know if the funds you choose are the right funds for today's investment climate?

The secret is to keep the right balance of funds in your plan and that's not as complicated as you might think.

Different types of mutual funds respond to different economic conditions. By diversifying the investments in your RSP, you can protect your portfolio from downturns in one market, while capitalizing on upswings in others.

The right mix of funds depends on how far away you are from retirement, your investment comfort level, and your investment objectives.

Funds with the greatest growth potential usually demonstrate the most volatility, so they should be considered longer-term investments. Before you invest, review the different types of funds, and your own needs, with a knowledgeable mutual fund representa-

Talent rewarded. Music teachers from around the area rewarded their pupils at the fall recital and scholarship presentation held late last year. A number of local students were awarded scholarships for their hard work and skill in a variety of music areas. There are more than 25 teachers in the Olds and District Music Teachers group, encompassing the area from Crossfield to Red Deer and Three Hills to Sundre.

Investing is an ongoing process. Over time you'll have to adjust your portfolio to ensure that it holds the right mix of investments given your changing objectives. To maintain the right mix you should:

- Review your holdings at least once a year, or more often if your investment objectives change.
- Read your mutual funds' simplified prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports. These publications contain useful information about the funds' objectives, the managers' outlook and general economic conditions.

- A dramatic increase in the value of any of your funds could change your investment mix. Monitor your quarterly statements, and talk to your fund representative if you think it might be time to rebalance.

- If one of your funds has declined in value, it may actually be an opportunity to increase your holdings in that fund -- if it still meets your RSP's objectives.

- A balanced mutual fund "balances" its holdings between different types of investments, including equities (stocks) and bonds. As such, if you choose to add this type of fund to your RSP, you can leave the decision-making up to the fund manager.

- Finally, remember that maintaining the right balance means your RSP will be less prone to the short-term ups and downs of investment markets.

Paying family members wages has tax advantages

Special to the Review

Farm families can reduce their tax bill and boost their after-tax family income by as much as 10 percent by paying family members wages or salaries says an Alberta Agriculture business management specialist.

"While there are a number of advantages to paying farm family members for their work, there are also some disadvantages to consider," says Paul Gervais of the farm business management branch in Olds.

Paying children wages for their farm work is a tax deductible expense to the farm business explains Gervais. "This can reduce the family's total income tax bill by splitting income among family members. Any small business may deduct employee wages as a cost of doing business and farming is a small business. Wages or salaries must be reasonable for the work done."

"A spouse who works on the farm and hires someone to look after young children can deduct child care expenses," he adds. "The children have to be younger than 14 and the care-giver, if related, must be over 18."

Regular wage payments can also replace year-end tax reduction strategies such as purchasing machinery to claim a depreciation expense.

Paying wages and Canada Pension Plan (CPP) premiums to people over 18 years means those individuals can be eligible for CPP's retirement and disability benefits.

"Paying CPP premiums is also connected to one of the disadvantages--an increase in paperwork and record keeping," notes Gervais. To start, an employer registration number is needed from Revenue Canada. Extra paper work includes completing a Personal Tax Credit Return for each employee, keeping a detailed monthly payroll ledger and submitting monthly remittance forms to Revenue Canada Taxation.

Farm employers may also have extra payroll expenses besides CPP such as Unemployment Insurance Commission (UIC) premiums.

"One of the issues you should consider is how each person's stake in the farm business is affected by paying wages," says Gervais. "Often interest in the farming operation increases because of monetary recognition."

An Alberta Agriculture factsheet Paying Wages to Family Members (Agdex 823-3) explains details about the benefits and drawbacks, how wages and tax credits work, paperwork required, payroll deductions; and, answers some common questions. The factsheet is available from all Alberta Agriculture district offices.

For more information contact Gervais in Olds at (403) 556-4250.

Museum facing closure

1994: A YEAR

Didsbury gets summer game

The face of business in Didsbury changed somewhat in 1994. One change was for Parkland Agri Services who moved to newer, better facilities. They celebrated with a barbeque and splashy ribbon cutting ceremony.

Didsbury to pilot 9 for 10 project

It was a year of cutbacks and downsizing for everyone as the Klein government continued its plan to get rid of the deficit. No one was left out of the pinch, including seniors who took the hit in the pocketbook with decreased benefits. Even students were affected as school programs were cut and the school week changed in an attempt to save money.

Locally, budget cuts meant the loss of the Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance office, a change of organization at Alberta Agriculture, threat of closure at the museum thanks to grant cuts and the split of the tri-hospital committee as the Mountain View Health Care Centre looked east for regionalization and Olds and Sundre looked north.

Speaking of regionalization, the school board avoided the issue as long as possible but was forced into an unhappy alliance with the County of Red Deer. 1995 will show how that works out.

On the municipal level, cutbacks and other restraints did not keep some very positive things from happening in Didsbury. We tasted success with the newly expanded trade show and the MCC Relief Sale and Auction which exceeded all expectations and brought hundreds of visitors to our area. The long standing success of the Didsbury Evangelical Church was applauded earlier in the year when they celebrated their 100th anniversary and the success of volunteer effort was given concrete form when crime statistics showed a decrease in property crimes thanks to the efforts of the Urban Crime Watch Committee.

We saw some of our most active seniors take part in the Blue Flame Torch Run as it passed through Didsbury on its way to the Alberta Seniors' Games, saw the IGA get a face lift and become Mayfair Foods, watched as plans formed to revitalize Didsbury's downtown after the BRZ was formally established and welcomed the grand opening of the new recycling centre.

We had our losses too in 1994. We lost our Economic Development Officer to another job and our RCMP Sergeant and head librarian to retirement. We also lost one of our favorite gift shops and the bit of history that stood as the UGG elevator. But we also gained a new librarian and NCO, another wonderful little gift shop and a new restaurant, plus we managed to enjoy one final elevator movie, an event that gained us international attention, before the screen was lost to posterity.

Other gains included more doctors for College Green Medical Centre, a new appliance store, a driving range, a sports pub and a farm supply store at Kuelker's Manufacturing. We also celebrated the opening of a brand new, highly impressive curling rink as we shed a few tears over memories as the old was torn down.

We at the newspaper have had some changes as well, albeit quiet ones (this was the year of restraint after all). We lost an old friend to another job but gained a new one, we added a Faces feature to bring even more news to your door and incorporated our business and agriculture news sections to do the job a little better. We also spruced up our front page image, taking advantage of more computer technology and giving ourselves a bit more mature look. We are nearing 10 now, you know.

As I said last year, no one knows what to expect in the upcoming year, but you can be sure to read all about it in each weekly edition of the Didsbury Review.

Alberta Social Services Minister Gary Mar faced angry opposition to cuts in seniors' benefits when he visited Didsbury in March.

THERE'S NO ALTERNATIVE TO CONCRETE

Concrete is the basement building material with all the advantages.

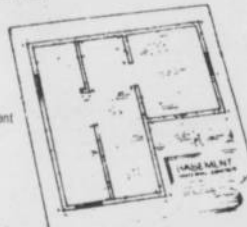

It's a proven performer. Rugged Tough, Durable. A concrete basement will never burn or rot. And concrete is safe. Quality-controlled, concrete needs no toxic chemicals which may be hazardous to building occupants.

Concrete is an energy-wise choice. A concrete basement needs little heat or air-conditioning. And concrete walls are easily insulated.

Economically, concrete is a good investment. A concrete basement will add years of life to the foundation and considerable dollars to the resale value of your building.

Add up the advantages. There's simply no alternative to quality controlled concrete. The best basement building material.

is truth.

However, it is prophesied that the same power, a union of church and state, which exercised such merciless control then, will rise again for a short while in the end time. By the signs, we are now entering that new Dark Age. Regardless of which political party is in power, our government is following a certain agenda which has bankrupted our country and which is becoming increasingly invasive of the pocketbooks and the legitimate rights of ordinary law-abiding Canadians.

Among these abuses of power are the increasingly restrictive gun laws. A man's home was once his castle - a place he had a right to defend. But not anymore. The justice system provides no meaningful deterrents to crime and now, with the virtual disarming of all law-abiding citizens, criminals have absolutely nothing to fear and can invade homes with impunity. It is the sinner truth that when guns are outlawed, only outlaws will have guns. Considering the continuing erosion of our rights and freedoms, do we really want such a government to be the arbiter of what we shall read and think?

We are living in a very troubled time and we need to know just what is going on. God warns us that, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge." (Hosea 54:6) If we are wise we will be reading and studying the messages of the three angels of Revelation 14 while there is yet time and opportunity. Also read Rev. 18:4. These are God's last urgent warnings, given in love to a perishing world. The books of Daniel and Revelation are for our day. The long and unworkable experiment with sin is almost over and God in his mercy will make a short work of these last perilous days. He is not willing that any should perish (see 2 Peter 3:9). But He made us free to choose and the informed choices we make now will determine our eternal destiny.

630 - CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to Dr. Read and hospital staff for all the good care I received during my short stay there. Also a special thank you to my family and good friends that brought delicious baking into my home, for phone calls, care and concern shown. All is much appreciated.

Annie McNaughton 37-1tp

The residents of the Kinsmen Manor "A" and "B" wish to thank: 1) The North Lone Pine ladies for the Christmas dinner, Dec. 1, 1994; 2) Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brassard for the Poinsettias; 3) The Ladies of the Royal Purple for the oranges; 4) Our friends and relatives who drop in and leave goodies on the sitting room tables; 5) Hugo and Rita for the Christmas decorations and the lights and lighted tree outdoors. We wish one and all the very best in 1995. Residents of Kinsmen Manor 37-1tp

630 - CARDS OF THANKS

Friends, Relatives and Royal Purple Ladies: Due to illness between Christmas and New Years and before I was unable to get my greeting cards out on time. So I hope you had a Merry Christmas and I wish you a Happy New Year. The money I would have spent on this went to help the Didsbury Cadets this year - a good cause.

Iona Sheils 37-1tp

The family of Bernie Fulkerth wish to express our sincere thank you's to our many neighbours, friends and relatives for phone calls, visits, flowers, food, cards and donations made to charities in Bernie's name. Thank you to Rev. R. Pahl who certainly eased our grieving with his service on caring. Our neighbour Virginia Shaw will be thought of often for her eulogy that seemed to say exactly how "Biggie" lived his life. We would like to thank the Rosebud Community and Mountain View W.I. Ladies for their lunch after the service. We thank Ken Sherick and Mountain View Funeral Homes for their help and support. Thank you.

Anna Mae and Family 37-1tp

We wish to thank Dr. Ahmad, Joyce Nolin, the staff and volunteers for the kind care given our father, John Langard, during his stay in the Didsbury Nursing Home. Thank you to Ken Sherick of Mountain View Funeral Chapel, Rev. Bruce McIntyre, who conducted the memorial service and Ben Gillrie for the solo. Thank you for the cards, flowers and food delivered to the house, and to Carol Wright, Glenda and Syna Klinck who served a delicious lunch after the service. We appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Thank You

On behalf of the 4th Community Christmas Dinner, we would like to thank everyone who helped make another Christmas a little less lonely for those who took part in Christ's day. We served 56 plates and enjoyed sharing, visiting & singing with all who attended. Special thanks to Tammy Dick, Noel Wygiera, Betty Casebeer & Helen Lane & Dick Forth. Without everyone involved in donations & helpers, your Christmas dinner could not be accomplished. We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has helped us for four years to make this day special for others and invite anyone who is interested in continuing this worthwhile tradition to contact Dorothy Moore Anderson (Re/Max Real Estate) for further info. We wish everyone a wonderful Christ filled 1995 and pray for caring people not just for Christmas but through the whole year. The Hollinger's (Garth & Pat) will be turning the "Dinner" to anyone else who would care to fulfill other's Christmas Dinners.

Dragons to host basketball tourney

Special to the Review

The Didsbury High Dragons will be hosting some of the top 2A boys basketball teams in the province on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 12, 13 and 14. Six of the 8 zones in Alberta are represented in the 12 team tournament. Six of the teams contending for the tournament championship are ranked in the top ten, as of December 23rd, at the 2A level.

Heading the list of teams is the two time defending 2A provincial champions from Canmore. The Crusaders have also won the last two Dragon Invationals. All teams will have to work hard to beat the tournament favorites and the number "1" ranked Lions of Edmonton Christian High School. Calgary Christian will make their first appearance in Didsbury but will be tough as they are last year's provincial 1A champions and have all of their players back to contend for 2A honors this year. Another team to watch closely will be Strathcona Academy out of Sherwood Park who will be looking to contest ECHS for the Edmonton zone honors in March.

Other teams attending include Oilfields High (Black Diamond) and Prairie High (Three Hills) from the South Central zone. Prairie High was consolation champions at the 2A provincials last March. Perennial Central Zone winners David Thompson High from Condor returns again this year and will give whoever they play problems as this team seems to play its best ball in Didsbury. The always tough South Zone sends Willow Creek High from Claresholm and the Calmar Whitehawks will represent the North Central Zone. Two 3A schools, Chestermere Lakers and the Olds Spartans round out the tournament competitors.

All of these teams will provide some of the best basketball competition and talent at the 2A/3A level anywhere in the province. It's also likely that the 1995 2A provincial champs will be in Didsbury this weekend. Three games will be played at Westglen School on Thursday night starting at 4:30 p.m. while four games will go in Olds and at Westglen starting at 3:30 p.m. on Friday night. All play-offs and finals will be in Westglen or at D.H.S. on Saturday starting at 9:30 a.m. The championship game is at 7:15 on Saturday night.

The Didsbury High School Dragons basketball team are preparing for a tournament. The Dragons are a top rated team in their league and are looking forward to a winning season.

Grizzlies ready for second half

by Ivan Warawa
Special to the Review

First of all I would like to congratulate the Canadian Junior hockey team in winning their third consecutive goal medal. If you're a hockey fan like I am this was great to watch. The hard play and heart of this team shows that Canadian hockey players are definitely the team to beat.

The Grizzlies enjoyed their Christmas holiday for a few good reasons. One of which was to get geared up for the second important part of the season. Marek Tatar will be back from injury and as well the Triple 'A' midget, Tyler Barabonoff is another good reason.

Finally, Jan. 3, their first game at home against the team that has troubled them most, the Calgary Canucks. With the absence of Marek Tatar, Josh Urdman and John Pouzar, the offense may have sputtered. This wasn't the case at all. The Grizzlies finally welcomed a long waited for Tyler Barabonoff to their defensive core with his talent. Tyler broke his leg in training camp but made his debut for this game. He certainly proved to coaches and fans that he can play in this league with an assist on the Grizzlies first goal at the 9:01 mark of the starting period. Joe Murphy answered with one of his own goals near the end of the period.

The second period was much like the first with some fast skating, good saves, and hard body checking. This style of play resulted in one more goal for the Grizzlies as they led 3-0 going into the third period.

The Canucks came out strong and out shot the Grizzlies in the third but could only beat Ian Perkins with one goal. This was one of the major factors in the game and why the Canucks could not get any closer on the scoreboard.

Ian Perkins definitely deserved to be the player of the game as this has been the best I have seen him play. This is a great time for Perkins to come into his own play.

The Grizzlies were somewhat fired up as they faced the Calgary

Pool splashings

Special to the Review

Drownings and water-related accidents are a serious problem in our country. Over the past three years, close to 2,000 Canadians have died in water-related incidents. The drowning death rate remains high for men aged 18-34 and for unattended toddlers under the age of 5. These two age groups rate first and second, respectively, in water-related deaths.

Winter holds to exception when talking about water safety - ice safety in particular. During the months of November to March (the cold Canadian months) over the past three years, an average of 133 people died per year in water accidents. Of these 133, an average of 27 per year died while snowmobiling on "frozen-over" water. To protect yourself and your family from the hazards of ice accidents, here are a few guidelines to follow:

1. To tell how thick ice is, cut a hole in it and measure. A minimum of 6 inches is safe to skate or walk on; a minimum of 10 inches is safe to snowmobile on, and to drive cars on ice the ice must be no less than 16 inches thick.

2. Just because ice is thick enough in one spot, it does not mean that it will be that thick all over. The ice will be thinner when there are undercurrents and weak where there are pressure ridges or air holes.

3. Be wary of newly formed ice, old ice beginning to thaw, ice on a river and when thawing weather is occurring.

4. Always take a buddy with you when on ice. Skate on open ice only with adult supervision and have safety equipment available. A ladder should be standard rescue equipment at any popular outdoor skating area.

5. When crossing ice, take a long stick or pole with you. The pole should straddle the hole and assist you to climb out should you break through.

The best rule to follow: If you do not know anything about an ice-covered area, STAY OFF. Be safe, summer and winter, when around water. As for the high-risk group of adult males, the answer is water safety education. Unattended toddlers need to be closely supervised by a responsible person at all times when around water. Water meaning lakes, rivers, dugouts, ditches, backyard and public pools, hot tubs, bathtubs, and yes, even toilets.

Be water smart! The Didsbury Aquatic Centre has ongoing swimming for adults and children, all of them starting in January.

Belles make weekend points

by Ken Blain
Special to the Review

The Cremona Belles returned to action on the weekend with a pair of impressive victories.

Saturday in Sundre, a sluggish start saw the teams tied at two until Cremona exploded for six unanswered goals in the final 8 minutes of the first period. From there, the Belles coasted to a 10-5 win. The scoring barrage was led by Shannon Skogen and Wendy Leask with hat tricks while Shera Robertson had a pair. Adrienne Blain and Jennifer McKimm were the leading playmakers with four and 3 assists respectively.

Sunday afternoon the previously undefeated Calgary Northwest Belles were the guests at Cremona arena. Cremona came out flying and played a near flawless first period. The result? A 6-1 lead highlighted by several picture perfect goals that involved high speed, three way passing that brought the crowd to its feet. A penalty filled second period saw Cremona skate to a very satisfying 9-5 victory. Once again the scoring was spread around as three girls (Stacey Kinch, Shannon Skogen, Jennifer McKimm) had two goals each with singles being netted by Monica Russell, Sherry Leask and Wendy Leask.

The defensive corps of Melissa Havens, Amber Havens, Shera Robertson, Jill Fournier and Monica Russell deserve special mention for their penalty killing and generally shutting down the potent Calgary attack. In both games, Melissa Foat supplied solid -at times spectacular - goaltending. The Belles are now eight and 3 in league play and appear primed for the Golden Ring Tournament in Calgary on Jan. 20 - 22. Come and watch some excellent ringette!

DIDSBURY MINOR HOCKEY

Atom Ramblers busy over break

Special to the Review

Well it's been a few weeks since we had any news but it's not because the boys haven't been busy on the hockey trail. We've actually played nine games.

Over the Christmas holidays some of the boys went to Cremona to play a little Pee Wee C which was quite an experience for some who have never played hit hockey. They won the C event winning two of 3 games.

On Tuesday, Jan. 3, we were off to Beiseker for a one day tournament. We opened with a game against the home town team. Cody Archer opened the scoring at the 15 minute mark assisted by Matt Schnell, then Mark Konschuh on a goal from Brett Hopfe put the Ramblers up 2 to 0. Then later in that period, time running out, it was Beiseker's turn to even the score. With 1 minute left it was 2 to 1 and then at the 2 second mark it was tied going into two.

Second period action saw the home towners go up 3 to 2 before Scott Murphy assisted by Mark Konschuh tied it again. Then it was Devon Kletzel's turn at the five minute mark unassisted and then again at the 2:36 mark from Luke Spreeman, it was Ramblers 5 - Beiseker 3.

Third period goals came from Murphy unassisted and Matt Schnell from Brian Birch. Beiseker scored a lone goal and the final was Ramblers 7 - Beiseker 4.

The next game that day was against the team from Torrington who beat the Airdrie team to advance to play us in the final. Goals were scored by Cody Archer with a hat trick, Ryan Walker a single, Chris Clazie a single, Scott Murphy a pair and singles to Devon Kletzel, Matt Mantai, Mark Konschuh and also to Erik Ausenhus. This game had a lot of scoring and the boys kind of took it to Torrington. Final: Ramblers 12 - Torrington 4.

I think they thought, "if we get this over quickly we will be able to make our next game on time in Carstairs at 7:30", so off we went to tangle with the Carstairs Kings. This was a very exciting game but the boys were just slowly running out of steam. Action was back and forth and the Ramblers actually out shot the Kings 29 to 27 but in a losing match as the Kings were victorious: Kings 7 - Ramblers 5.

Wednesday then saw us off to Carstairs again to play the Kings who were again victorious by a larger margin than the night before. Didsbury goals came from Scott Murphy with hat trick from Archer twice and Schnell, then Archer twice, once unassisted and one from Konschuh and Kletzel. Kings 11 - Ramblers 6.

Later that night the boys took on the team from Crossfield. Scoring was from Archer with 2, Schnell 2, Kletzel 2, a single to Murphy and three assists to Schnell and a single to Archer. Final: Ramblers 7 - Crossfield 4.

On Thursday it was back to Carstairs to take on Crossfield again. This one was a lot closer ending in a tie. Goal scorers were Mark Konschuh, Scott Murphy, Brett Hopfe, Chris Clazie and Devon Kletzel with assists to Mantai, Archer, Hopfe, Kletzel and Brian Birch. Final: Ramblers 5 - Crossfield 5.

Saturday it was back to some league play as we were home to Sundre. The couple day lay off must have rejuvenated the boys as they were looking for some league points and used Sundre to get back on track in league wins which are far between. In the first Erik Ausenhus opened at the one minute mark from Devon Kletzel and then at the 18 minute mark Brett Hopfe unassisted.

In the second Cody Archer from Matt Schnell, Devon Kletzel unassisted and Ryan Walker from Hopfe and Archer. Sundre replied with their only two goals of the game in the second. After two: Ramblers 5 - Sundre 2.

Third period action came with two unassisted goals from Matt Schnell and Luke Spreeman and the final was two points for Ramblers to start the new year. Final: Ramblers 7 - Sundre 2.

handed goal. Joe Murphy, just like last game, replied with a goal to end the first period, the only difference was that this goal was on the power play.

John Pouzar got back into the swing of things as he got a goal early in the second period. Marek Tatar scored his second short handed goal midway through the period.

Grizzlys took most of the penalties in the second period but the Royals could only capitalize on one of those chances.

Going into the third period the Grizzlys had complete control of the game. They added two more even strength goals while the opposition could only muster one goal to make this contest a 6-2 victory for Olds.

The team played well as a team that night. There were a few players that qualified for player of the game. Marek Tatar had two goals and 1 assist while Ian Perkins came up with another great game. The one player that caught my eye with his aggressive body checking and excellent fore checking would have to be Didsbury's own Joe Murphy, Star of the Game. This reminded me of the Murphy of old with his style of play.

Grizzlys' hopped on the bus for a long ride up to meet the Bonneyville Pontiacs on Saturday, Jan. 7 and on Sunday, Jan. 8. The first game was a squeaker win as they stole the two points in an overtime shoot-out. Final score 4-3. The second game was exactly the same score 4-3, the only difference is that this game ended in regulation time.

Seems as though the Grizzlys have started on the right foot. Next game Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1995 against the Canucks.

Junior A All-star game planned

Special to the Review

The Fort Saskatchewan Traders will join the Olds Grizzlys, Calgary Canucks and Calgary Royals to form the South team for the Alberta Junior Hockey League all-star game Jan. 21.

The Fort McMurray Oil Barons, St. Albert Saints, Sherwood Park Crusaders, Bonnyville Pontiacs and Lloydminster Blazers will form the North team.

The all-star game is scheduled for 1 p.m. at the Jubilee Recreation Centre in Fort Saskatchewan. The all-star game banquet, honoring 31 scholarship recipients, will be at 6:30 p.m.

Coaches will vote for 15 players to be selected for each team by Jan. 10. An additional five players per team will be chosen by the respective coaches, to be determined following Jan. 10 games on a percentage basis, since teams won't have played the same number of games.

The players voted to the North and South teams will be announced Jan. 12.

control of the game until the midway point of the third period. Enjoying leads of 2-0 after one and 4-1 after two, the locals built a lead of 6-1 before Drum would try to change things in period three. Three goals quickly would close the gap, but Cremona would close the door and win 6-4. The goaltending duties were split between Brad Newsome and Nick Carscadden.

Saturday's action saw the Dynamite 1 Team defeat Olds and the Atoms prevailed Carstairs 5-4 in a good, close game.

The Pee Wee C's would find the going rough the same day against Strathmore losing 9-1 at home, but rebounding the next day against Okotoks and prevailing 4-3. It was a game in which all players contributed a good honest effort and it showed in the team's play as a whole.

It has been good to see the fan support at all levels of play again this year.

CANADA'S INTERNATIONAL IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM

HELPING CHILDREN BEAT THE ODDS

Canada is an important partner in the global effort to help children in the developing world beat the odds against six deadly, but preventable, diseases - measles, polio, tuberculosis, tetanus, whooping cough and diphtheria.

Through the worldwide initiative, more than three million young lives are saved each year. Despite this encouraging statistic, nearly two million children a year still die for lack of immunization. The odds can be beaten with your help.
